This is a time to Shine, a time to trust . . . This life is one for me to live fully, even as I offer myself to others and to service. Service will come from my heart, my mind, and my spirit. This is the way of magic and power. This is my way. I am here as one of many, and yet my oneness is as important as my deep connection to many. I will nurture this oneness. I will give it voice, I will give it play and will shine my gifts from the heart and share them with the world from a place of purity. I am here as a creator, and I will create, love, live, laugh as much as I can every moment. I am Magic, I am Power. Every Single Day, I will remember this. ☞ From the Heart~The Blissful Sisters
